Advantages of Newark as Industrial City Pointed Out by Mr. Mosser

ITS NEEDS CATALOGUED

New Manager of Chamber of Commerce Suggests Convention Hall As One of City's Needs—Would Make Most of Denison University, Moundbuilders Park and the Lake

George H. Mosser, the new manager of the Newark Chamber of Commerce, late of Altoona, Pa., but now a resident of Newark, received his official introduction to the members of the organization last night, at a reception and banquet given in his honor at the Masonic Temple.

More than two hundred members of the newly organized Chamber listened to Mr. Mosser's initial speech, which was the most convincing straight forward argument for co-operation among the men of this city, ever heard here. He did not dwell in flowery language on the heavens, the mountains and the sun, but delved deep into truths relative to the business and industrial growth of Newark, and why it has not been greater.

And then in several instances, using the manner of Billy Sunday, pointed out the essential qualities needed here to place the town on a competitive basis with cities twice its size.

"Men make the town," he said. "The advantages of your town are the work of the Creator, but the development of those advantages rests entirely with the men."

The speaker was frequently interrupted by applause as he depicted some instance he had encountered or related a story to emphasize the point of his argument.

Following a four course banquet President F. L. Beggs delivered his address which was as follows:

On the 22nd of March the Board of Trade and the Merchants Association entered into a contract with Town Development company for the purpose of creating and establishing a strong and highly efficient community organization to be known as the Newark Chamber of Commerce, whose object would be to advance the commercial, industrial and civic welfare of the city.

A preliminary survey of existing conditions was made and followed by a campaign of education to create among the citizens of Newark a new appreciation of the importance and value of organized effort for the betterment and development of the community.

The Town Development Company paid all expenses of the campaign and received for their services 25 per cent of the first year's dues collected. I need not recall the enthusiasm shown in that campaign, nor its successful termination, which is still fresh in your memory. I believe also that you will agree with me when I say, this campaign was well worth all its cost.

This is the first called meeting of the membership of the Chamber of Commerce since its permanent organization on May 12th. Your by-laws provide that the Board of Directors shall organize by electing from their number a President, Secretary, Treasurer and six Vice Presidents. The election was held and resulted as follows:

Frank L. Beggs, President.
John S. Fleek, Secretary.
Joseph N. Pugh, Treasurer and Third Vice President.

Howard F. Darrow, Fourth Vice President.
Homer C. Price, Fifth Vice President.
Clarence Helsey, Sixth Vice President.

W. J. Bowers.
John C. Krieg.
Ray Martin.
J. S. Elliott.

Your constitution divides the work into five Bureaus, and the by-laws provide that the work of each Bureau shall be under the direction of a committee of five made up of the Vice President who shall be chairman, his associate on the Board of Directors, and three appointed members comprise the Bureau. Under this provision, the work has been apportioned as follows:

Merchandise Bureau—Geo. Hermann, chairman; J. S. Elliott, A. R. Lindorf, A. S. Stephan, H. H. Harlin.

Industrial Bureau—Ralph Wyeth, chairman; Frank L. Beggs, E. M. Baugher, C. H. Spencer, Geo. E. Pickup.

Civic Bureau—Jos. N. Pugh, chairman; John S. Fleek, E. C. Wright, W. E. Hopkins, Wilson Hawkins.

Publicity and Convention Bureau—H. F. Darrow, chairman; W. J. Bowers, Carl Swisher, F. S. Neighbor, W. C. Kuster.

Agricultural Bureau—Homer C. Price, chairman; John C. Krieg, Wm. Hall, A. A. Stasel, J. S. Graham.

Members Council—Clarence Helsey, chairman; Ray Martin, W. C. Meets, F. M. B. Windle, Benj. Montgomery.

Youngsters Enjoy Picnic as Guests of the Auto Club; Great Day's Sport Provided

More than three hundred happy youngsters had the time of their lives today at the picnic arranged for them under the auspices of the Newark Auto club.

The picnic was planned at a meeting of the club held several weeks ago and Dr. J. T. Lewis, Col. W. C. Wells, Rev. Don T. Tullis, Edward Kibler, Sr., and H. D. Hale were appointed a committee to arrange for the event. These gentlemen had the active assistance of a number of others who made the picnic possible.

DR. J. T. LEWIS, Chairman of Committee Whose Untiring Efforts Contributed in a Large Measure to the Success of the Kiddies Picnic.

Seventy-five machines were signed and out of that number only a few were forced to cancel at the last moment.

Chairman Lewis of the committee was out early this morning with a big auto truck assembling the good things which included a consignment of ice cream cones donated by the Licking County Creamery, 30 large watermelons, the gift of E. H. Everett Co., 900 sandwiches, the bread being donated by John H. Flanagan and the meat for the same by Messrs. Emmett McDaniel and Will C. Kuster, the former making the sandwiches, six gallons of beincoed ham and a couple of gallons of salad being required.

The lemonade was made by Pat Flanagan and J. C. Brown, the East Newark grocer, who also contributed 75 dozen pickles. The lemonade required 360 lemons. Four hundred pounds of ice was contributed by the Consumers' brewery. A crate of 350 oranges was taken along with three big bunches of bananas. Wm. & Sawyer donated a couple hundred cakes. Mrs. Moore one hundred, and Mrs. Price fifty. E. S. Miller furnished the committee with 300 turkeys for the children.

As early as 7 o'clock this morning the kids began to gather on the north side of the public square, and at 8:30 the machines began arriving. J. N. Pugh had signed for a car but found out last evening that he would be unable to go so he handed the committee a five dollar bill to help pay the expenses.

Nine cars were sent over to the Children's Home at 8:30 and forty-eight happy little youngsters joined the jolly throng in the public square. It was demonstrated that Newark has any number of big-hearted men for the cars kept rolling in and when the start was made there were several cars that had to be left behind, although about fifty more children were taken to the lake than had been provided for.

Before the start was made every child was given a sack of peanuts which had been roasted by Pat Flanagan, who is said to be an expert in that line. The cars were filled under the direction of Probation Officer John Dwyer, who deserves great credit for the valuable assistance which he rendered the committee. Mr. Dwyer giving out the tickets and keeping a record of the same.

Chief Sheridan was on hand with a detail of patrolmen to help get away and arrange parking space in the square. They then went to the (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5.)

FRENCH Consolidate New Positions Along Three-Mile Front Near Somme

BIG TOWNS THREATENED

English and French Make a United Assault On Western Front Which Yields More Territory—Resistance of Teutons Stiffens But Slays Capture 7,700 More Prisoners

After scoring important gains along a front of nearly three miles in the Somme region both north and south of the river, the French are busily consolidating the newly won ground, making preparations for the expected German counter stroke.

No such attack developed last night but the Paris bulletin today reports intense artillery activity north of Maurepas, where the French yesterday, in conjunction with the British effected their most telling advance, capturing more than three-quarters of a mile of trenches.

The new allied advance north of the Somme weakens the hold of the Germans on Guillemont and Maurepas, which latter place the French already partly hold.

The objective of the operation is the important railway center of Peronne, nearly opposite which, south of the river the French yesterday also scored a gain in the region of Bello-en-Santerre. Today's official statement from London reports the pushing forward of the British line west and southwest of Guillemont, the report apparently covering the operation announced by Paris last night.

Further indications of the stiffening of the Teutonic resistance to the Russian advance in Galicia is contained in today's statement from Petrograd which announces renewed counter attacks by the Austro-German forces. The capture of 7,700 additional prisoners and 46 guns by General Brussiloff's armies is announced.

Indications of important activity in the Balkans are increasing. A Bulgarian official statement today reports two attacks by entente forces in the region of Lake Dorian but declares each was repulsed.

STREET CAR MEN FAIL TO SETTLE THEIR GRIEVANCES

New York, August 17.—A conference today between Frank Hedley, general manager of the New York Railways Co. and a committee of union leaders failed to bring their differences, which threaten a renewal of the recent strike, any nearer a settlement.

Authorized by their union to call a strike on all surface lines of the New York Railways Co., a committee of union men conferred with the general manager to demand a settlement of grievances which have developed since the recent street car strike. Two thousand employees of the New York Railways Co. voted last night to quit work if their grievances were not adjusted. Before going on strike, however, they voted to call upon Mayor Mitchell and the chairman of the down-state public service commission to use their influence to induce the officials of the company to put into effect agreements which were made as a result of the strike early this month.

William B. Fitzgerald, general organizer of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees, says that if the union calls a strike on the surface car lines the men employed on the elevated and subway routes in Manhattan also will be called out.

BRITISH CLOSE IN ON GERMANS OF SOUTHWEST AFRICA.

PRESIDENTS

Of Leading Railroads Called to Washington for Talk With Wilson

KICK ON 8-HOUR PLAN

Managers Turn Down Pres. Wilson's Proposal But Express Willingness to Arbitrate Question—May Call In Financiers Who Control Roads if Presidents Claim No Authority

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, Aug. 17.—President Wilson today invited the presidents of the principal railroads of the country to come to Washington immediately to confer with him on the threatened railroad strike. Pending their arrival he does not plan to see the committee of managers here, with whom he has been meeting.

The President's action in asking for the conference with railroad presidents themselves is interpreted as meaning that the managers committee had refused finally to concede the eight-hour day as the President's plan proposed and the question now is to be taken up with the heads of the railroads themselves. The situation as it stood today was this: The railroads flatly refuse to concede the eight-hour day but are willing to arbitrate that question and all others before any tribunal the President or the men may decide upon.

The men are willing to arbitrate some questions under certain conditions and are unwilling to arbitrate others. This afternoon at 3 o'clock the President will present his plan to the full committee of 640 employees in the hope of getting them to approve it. The result will be presented to the railroad presidents later.

Early this morning Secretary Tully telephoned to Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio, regarding the invitation to the railroad presidents to come to the White House and Mr. Willard said that he would do everything possible to arrange a conference.

In case President Wilson finds that any of the railroad presidents cannot speak absolutely for their roads, he may invite to the White House the financiers who control them. Officials said today that the President wants to deal with the "ultimate authority" on both sides in order that the negotiations may be conducted here.

Among the managers it was pointed out that the presidents have been constantly advised of the negotiations with President Wilson and the feeling prevailed that the attitude of the railroad heads was not the same as the managers committee although no one could forecast what a personal conference with the President would have. The railroad presidents were expected to make a strong plea for preservation of the principle of arbitration and will express their fear that if the present difficulty cannot be settled without it, there is little hope of its being successful in the future.

In preparation for the conference between President Wilson and the 640 employees, chairs were placed today in the east room of the White House, the scene of many a notable social event. The President during the morning prepared a statement to the employees committee.

"Another indication of the delicacy of the situation was seen in the decision at the White House not to make public the President's remarks to the men, at this time at least. It was first intended to publish the President's statement and then lay the case before the high court of public opinion. It was believed that while there was hope of making the committee and managers by appeals to the presidents of the financiers, negotiations would be kept confidential."

President Wilson's invitation was sent to these railroad presidents: Daniel Willard, B. and O.; Samuel Rae, Pennsylvania; Fairfax Harrison, Southern railway; Samuel M. Felton, Chicago & Great Western; George W. Stevens, Chesapeake & Ohio; William Sproule, Southern Pacific; E. E. Calvin, Union Pacific; L. F. Loebe, Delaware & Hudson; W. J. Harahan, Seaboard Airline; Howard Elliott, New Haven; B. F. Bank, Missouri Pacific; A. H. Smith, New York Central; F. D. Underwood, Erie; William H. Truesdale, Lackawanna; E. P. Riley, Santa Fe; R. H. Ashton, Chicago and Northwestern; A. J. Earling, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul; J. H. Hustis, Boston & Maine.

Some of the leaders of the men were planning to meet the demand of the railroad managers for arbitration after insisting to President Wilson that 75 more lines for which the railroad managers contend they have no authority to speak shall be included in the negotiations.

In that way an old dispute between the managers and the brotherhood officials would be opened and probably result in an inquiry into the ownership and control of the roads in question.

Investigation will prove, the employees representatives insist, that the larger railroads for which the managers are acting control the majority of the smaller lines.

DR. HOMER J. DAVIS, ONE OF NEWARK'S MOST EMINENT PHYSICIANS, is a Licking county product, having been born in Licking township, Licking county. He is descended from two of the county's pioneer families, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Davis, his mother before marriage having been Miss Helen Sutton. Dr. Davis is a graduate of Granville Academy, Denison University, Rush Medical College of the University of Chicago, and is a member of Beta Theta Pi general college fraternity, Phi Rho Sigma medical professional fraternity, Alpha Omega medical honorary fraternity, Knights Templar, B. P. O. E., Licking County Medical Society, Ohio State Medical Society and the American Medical Association. He is local surgeon for the Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio railroad companies, a member of the staff of the city hospital, medical supervisor of the county children's home, and is medical probation officer for the juvenile court. After graduating from Denison University with the degree of Bachelor of Science in 1897, Dr. Davis accepted a position as professor of chemistry and physics in Williamsburg College, Kentucky, where he taught for three and one-half years, during that period attending summer sessions of the University of Chicago and continuing his specialization in science. He then entered Rush Medical College of that University, and it was there that his devotion to science and his assiduous efforts and application to his studies gained for him the highest honor that can be conferred upon a medical student—the key of Alpha Omega, which is the college honorary fraternity of the medical world. The key is bestowed only in recognition of exceptional scholarship and in prestige is equivalent to the key of Phi Beta Kappa in colleges of the liberal arts. After receiving his diploma from Rush College in 1904, Dr. Davis served a one-year internship in Cook County Hospital, which is the city hospital of Chicago. The subject of this sketch located in Newark in 1907, and since that time has practiced his profession here and has gained much recognition for his ability as a physician and surgeon. His offices are in 83 Hudson avenue at the southwest corner of Hudson avenue and Locust street.

WILL ADDRESS ADVENTISTS AND NEWARK PEOPLE ON INFANTILE PARALYSIS.

Has Just Come From New York Where He Has Taken Part in Recent Investigations.

The camp of the Adventists opens tonight at the Mound Builders' Park. A steady stream of delegates and campers has been pouring in all day. The camp is in readiness for them. The tents are all pitched and every other camp necessity that has been ordered is on hand. Every tent pitched has already been taken, and what to do with the crowd that is still coming in is one of the problems. Tents and other accommodations, however, will be provided.

This encampment of the Seventh-day Adventists is the biggest thing that Newark has had in many a day, and it surely is a sight to see the city teeming with people.

One of the arrivals at the convention is Dr. D. H. Kress of Washington, D. C., medical secretary of the Columbia Union Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, a conference of the conferences of the states of Ohio, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, District of Columbia, Virginia and West Virginia.

Dr. Kress comes direct from New York City. He has been engaged in a personal and thorough investigation of the plague of infantile paralysis that is causing so much trouble in that city, and from which there have been so many deaths recently in Toledo. It is arranged that Doctor Kress shall speak to the campers and to the people of Newark on the cause, prevention, and treatment of paralysis. Announcement of this address will be published later.

Among the other delegates to the conference is Dr. Wilford J. Venen, of Youngstown, O., who is secretary of the conference medical department.

Seventh-day Adventists are noted the world over for their treatment of the sick, and their sanitariums, hospitals and treatment rooms are surpassed by any medical or religious body in the world. The outlay of the denomination in these institutions reaches almost $4,000,000.

This evening at the 7:30 hour, the delegates and campers will be made welcome by the president of the Ohio Conference, Elder E. K. Slade, of Mt. Vernon, O., who will speak on the "Victorious Life."

The following program will serve to show how fully all the time of each day will be occupied:

Granville

(Special to The Advocate)

Granville, Ohio, August 17. The dismantling of the pioneer house in North street, which has been in continuous possession of three generations of the Levi Rose family, was accomplished with ceremony at public auction on Wednesday, August 16. Farm implements and household goods were disposed of and through the efficient service of Mr. Frank Welsh the auctioneer, and of Mr. John Owen the clerk, there were some slow moments. Every thing was sold to the highest bidder, and on some of the most desirable of the old furniture bidding was brisk, especially among the women. The old house now is ready for the Denison trustees, its new owners, and its ultimate destiny will depend upon the dictum of the great architect Flagg, who is to plan a greater Denison. The house is substantial and dignified in appearance and one can only hope that it may not be found too sary to demolish it. Such a land mark would but emphasize the age of the college, as the owners of the property, through successive generations have been Baptists, and always in thorough sympathy with the work of the institution. Miss Virginia Thorne and her sister, Mrs. Paul Jones, niece of Mrs. Chapin, assisted by Judge J. M. Swartz, have admirably administered the estate.

Mrs. Willis A. Chamberlain will leave for Watsega, Ill., this evening, having received a telegram announcing the sudden death of her father, Mr. Eugene Warren, in that city.

Mrs. G. A. Beers entertained the women of her missionary circle Wednesday afternoon, August 16th, at her home in Elm street. Sewing for the circle engaged the attention of those present and dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

Miss Emma Spencer of Newark was a Granville caller Wednesday morning.

Mrs. C. E. Stanton is spending a fortnight at a popular lake resort in Pennsylvania with her parents and other members of her family.

Miss Helen Ray, who has spent most of the summer with relatives and friends in Philadelphia and Baltimore, is expected to arrive at her home on the Newark road this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. King and two children, Franklin and Henrietta, motored to Granville from Petersburg, Va., Wednesday, through the Shenandoah valley, nearly 700 miles of mountainous travel in four days. They will remain until Sunday as guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Belt in South Mulberry street.

Mrs. Kenneth Hall of Newark, and her sister, Harriet Belt, of Granville, went to Cleveland Wednesday where they are to be guests at the home of their uncle, Mr. O. R. Corey at 2187 East 100th street.

Miss Delia Belt of Newark, was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Belt yesterday and accompanied the King motoring party to Union Station, where they will visit Mr. and Mrs. Will Kinney on the old Wesley Belt farm.

The annual Masonic picnic was held today at the traditional old Cat Run, with an unusually large attendance, due to the perfect weather.

K. OF C. OUTING DRAWS CROWD TO THE LAKE

The early cars bound for Buckeye Lake were crowded today with the Knights of Columbus and their friends. The Knights are holding the annual outing for Central Ohio, under the auspices of the Zanesville council.

A number of special trains were run into the lake and an interesting program of athletic events has been arranged including a ball game. The glass pavilion has been taken over for the afternoon and evening and will be used exclusively by the Knights of Columbus. In connection with the dance program this evening the Columbus Knights of Columbus glee club composed of fifty members will sing.

YOUNGSTERS

Fifth street railroad crossing where they assisted the watchman.

The start was made at 9 o'clock. Chairman Lewis heading the procession, his car containing H. D. Hale, secretary of the committee, M. J. Reese, treasurer, Probation Officers John Dwyer and Mrs. Mary Miller of the juvenile court and three little girls. The pilot car was followed by seventy-five machines, all loaded with smiling youngsters between the ages of eight and fourteen years.

After riding around the square the cars proceeded direct to the lake and were forced to detour on the Jackson town pike on account of hot tar having been poured over the roadway. This feature was very unpleasant on account of the clouds of dust made by the machines.

Arriving at the lake the youngsters were taken at once to Picnic Point where a package of gum was given each and where three big tubs of ice cold lemonade awaited them.

They were then taken up to the Fisher pier in the park and given a treat of a boat ride around the lake. Next the merry-go-round received attention and every youngster present had a ride on the ponies.

Then came the picnic luncheon and how the kiddies did enjoy it. They had plenty to eat and they ate their fill. Later on in the afternoon they were given a generous slice of watermelon and cake.

After dinner games and marches were indulged in and the little ones just had a "bully" time. This feature was in charge of Miss Mabel Jones and she was ably assisted by several young ladies.

Mrs. Mary Miller, Mrs. M. J. Reese and daughter, Esther, Miss Mabel Jones and Miss Ross Kear and others assisted at the luncheon. Dr. Lewis also had the assistance of Smith Kedman, Frank Bader, Edward Kibler, Jr., Col. W. C. Wells, J. C. Brown, M. J. Reese, Pat Flanagan and a number of car owners in looking after the little ones.

The start home was made at 4 o'clock this afternoon and the kiddies picnic will long be remembered as one of the happiest days of their lives.

The Newark Auto club through the committee desire to thank all who rendered assistance in making the picnic a success.

Why Endure Summer Colds?

It isn't necessary to have a stuffed head, running nose. To cough your head off as it were. All you need do is to use Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. The soothing and healing balsams open the clogged air passages and in a short time you get relief and start on the road to recovery. Your nose stops running, you cough less and you know you are getting better. Get a bottle, use as directed. Keep what is left as a cough and cold insurance.

Bilious Attacks, Headaches and Constipation?

A Wineglassful of Tollo Water Will Stop Your Headache, Relieve Your Biliousness and Constipation in Half An Hour

When for any reason, the liver fails to perform its natural function, the bile tubes become clogged and the bile (Nature's only laxative) does not flow freely into the bowels, but is forced back into the system.

That is the reason you are constipated and awake with a bilious headache, heartburn, gas pains, bad taste in the mouth and other bilious symptoms.

Calomel and other strong drugs bring only temporary relief, besides they frequently salfate or upset the stomach.

You should use a more normal, easy way of correcting the trouble. Give your liver a Tollo Water liver bath.

This famous water is found at Dawson Springs, the Kentucky health resort. The effect is to dissolve the obstructions in the bile ducts, cleanse, purify and re-energize the liver.

You can prove its benefits for yourself in thirty minutes, for, although its action is natural and pleasant, it is also quick.

Get a 15-cent bottle of Tollo Water from your druggist and take a third of a tumbler in a glass of drinking water before breakfast, then you eat what you like without fear of indigestion. Headache, constipation and biliousness will be relieved at once, and the sour waste will be expelled from the system in half an hour. Do this occasionally and you will find your whole health improved.

How Thin People Can Put on Flesh

Thin men and women—that big, hearty, filling dinner you ate last night. What became of all that fat-producing nourishment it contained? You haven't gained in weight one ounce. That food passed from your body like unburned coal through an open grate. The material was there, but your food doesn't work and eat and stick, and the plain truth is you hardly get enough nourishment from your meals to pay for the cost of cooking. This is true of thin folks the world over. Your nutritive organs, your functions of assimilation, are probably sadly out of gear and need reconstruction.

Cut out the foolish foods and funny sawdust diets. Cut out everything but the meals you are eating and eat with every one of those single Sargol tablets, in two weeks note the difference. Let the scales be the judge. Five to eight good solid pounds of healthy, "stay-there" fat may be the net result. Sargol aims to charge weak, stagnant blood with millions of fresh new red blood corpuscles—to give the blood the carrying power to deliver every ounce of fat-making material in your food to every part of your body. Sargol, too, mixes with your food, to prepare it for the blood in an easily assimilated form. Thin people tell how they have gained all the way from 10 to 25 pounds a month while taking Sargol and say that the new flesh stays put. Sargol tablets are a careful combination of six of the best assimilative elements known to chemistry. They come 40 tablets to a package, are pleasant, harmless and inexpensive, and Evans' Drug Store, W. A. Eрман, 33 North Third street, and all other good druggists, this vicinity sell them subject to an absolute guarantee of weight increase or money back as found in every large package.

Train Your Hair as an Actress Does

No class of people devotes as much time to beauty as do actresses, and naturally no class must be more careful to retain and develop their charms. Inquiry among them develops the information that in hair care they find it dangerous to shampoo with any makeshift hair cleanser. Instead they have studied to find the finest preparation made for shampooing and bringing out the beauty of the hair. The majority of them say that to enjoy the best hair wash and scalp stimulator that is known, get a package of canthox from your druggist; dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water and your shampoo is ready. It costs less than three cents for this amount. After its use the hair dries rapidly, with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its lustre and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.

WORK ON FEDERAL BUILDING TO START SOON; BIDS OPENED

J. W. Farmer, assistant postmaster, today was unable to state when work on the Newark postoffice here would be started, following word from Washington, late yesterday that Thomas W. Cielci, of Wooster, was lowest bidder for the work.

Mr. Cielci was the lowest bidder for the federal building contract, bidding in limestone at $103,400 and sandstone at $111,000.

There were eight bidders for the construction, according to advice from the capitol.

Local postoffice officials have not met any representatives from the Wooster concern to date and are unable to state just when the work will be started.

But in all probability a man from the Wooster contractors will be on the scene in a day or so to make the preliminary arrangements for beginning the structure, which promises to be a valuable addition to Newark's downtown building improvements.

ESTABLISHED IN 1920

Entered as Second Class Matter March 10, 1915, at the postoffice at Newark, Ohio, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

It is never a good plan to swap horses while crossing a stream of water—Abraham Lincoln.

High Food Prices.

The government crop report issued a few days ago is ominous in its suggestions as to prices of food staples. Staples are jumping on the produce exchanges, and the poor man will be squeezed before another spring.

The abundant crops of the past few years had no appreciable effect to lower prices. The surplus was taken by fighting Europe. Europe is still bidding high for cereals and there is a shortage of production here. It may reasonably be expected that wheat and corn products will go to the highest figures ever known.

The injury to the corn crop makes the cost of feeding hogs high. Pork and bacon, the poor man's friends, will again be away up. Beef already sells at nearly prohibitive prices for working people.

Of course the country as a whole is prosperous. Millions of working people have had their wages raised. But it is not enough that they should be able barely to meet expenses. A family life is not securely established unless it has a bank account and a constant margin between income and outgo.

The pinch comes in a host of families that are suffering from some form of misfortune. In many the bread winner is the victim of accident or disease. In other, drunkenness and other vices have sapped the earning power, leaving wives and children to shift for themselves. In all such homes the rising cost of food products means a lack of nutritious food.

It is a time for small economies and the teaching of intelligent methods of food preparation. It is often remarked that a French family would live on what an American household throws away. Teaching a poor family how to get the most nourishment out of a given supply of foods is a better form of charity than giving money outright.

Handling Newspapers.

Newspaper men have no particular reputation for being orderly. In fact a great many newspaper offices are swamps of litter and rubbish. The office boy merely sweeps through the center of the room. He leaves accumulations of dust under the furniture. Still, newspaper work grows more systematic. More and more newspaper men have acquired method and regularity.

The disorderly handling of newspapers by the general public always seems irritating. Newspapers used to be pasted together so that they would remain in their original paged order. Now most papers are sent out unfastened, so that every sheet of four pages is a section by itself.

Most people immediately separate these sections one from the other, fold them up irregularly, wrong side out. Anyone picking up the paper thus torn apart has to hunt over

Thursday night the Freundenschaft Society gave a dinner to Ambassador Abram I. Elkus, and among other addresses Oscar S. Straus delivered one that rang with true Americanism as well as with justifiable pride in the achievements of men of his religion in this free country.

We quote two paragraphs which particularly please us:
"We should 'set our face against any purpose to try and influence in any way, especially in politics, the Jews as a group, or to appeal to us as a group, or to ask us to sustain any side in our public life, or to vote for either side on the ground that perhaps one side or the other has been a little more generous in bestowing offices on men of our race. My Americanism and yours would rebel against anything of that kind. We want no favors; we want justice only and for that we will stand."
"The fact that my colleagues have been able to attain to such a post will be a lesson and an encouragement to our young sons, especially to the sons of our rich coreligionists, to stand nobly by the flag, which flag has not prevented Henry Morgenthau and Abram Elkus from obtaining the highest honors from our government."
We believe that no Americans have a deeper and more heartfelt loyalty and affection for our common country than have those American who profess the Hebrew religion.
When we reflect upon the public services and the private philanthropies of Mr. Morgenthau, Mr. Straus, Mr. Elkus, Mr. Schiff and hundreds of other eminent Americans of Hebrew ancestry, we are unable to understand the regrettable and unjustifiable prejudice with which too many Americans look upon their fellow citizens of the Jewish religion.
Certainly that ancient religion in itself contains not one single precept to which a good man cannot heartily subscribe.
Certainly a religion which inculcates the fear of God and righteousness and charity between man and man and which produces such admirable men as we see all about us, adorning public and private life with virtues, philanthropies and services, is entitled to the respect, at least, of those of us who do not profess it.
For, since it is impossible that all of us can agree in religion, it becomes every one of us to respect the faith of others because mutual respect is the only true freedom of conscience and of religion—and real freedom of conscience and religion is the one of the two corner stones upon which rests the whole edifice of our laws and our institutions and our liberties.
The true American will harbor no prejudices of race or religion. To him it will make no difference whether his fellow citizen is Jew or Catholic or Protestant; whether he is of German, French, Italian, Russian, English or any other descent. All the true American asks of his fellow citizen is that he be a true American himself—loyal to the republic and ready to live for it and to die for it.
And unless we are greatly mistaken, the mass of Americans of the Jewish religion measure right up to that standard of true Americanism.

Railway Situation.
There is a close likeness between what the railways have been stopped in doing and what the trainmen are trying to do. They are trying to "cut a melon." To allow them to have their wages raised at the pinch of prosperity is the same thing as allowing them to capitalize their wages, or to water their work. That has been stopped on the railways and should not be allowed for their wage-earners. —New York Times.

The Courts

Judge Park Blair of Mt. Vernon next Monday will hear arguments of Attorneys P. B. Smythe and S. L. James and Prosecutor Horner on the motion of attorneys for James Wertz, asking for a change of venue. The motion was filed late yesterday afternoon in common pleas court. It was accompanied by 115 affidavits filed in support of the motion.

Wertz was indicted for murder in the first degree, the victim being his brother-in-law, Charles Stevens, who was killed in the latter part of February. The murder of Stevens was the second tragedy in the Wertz family, both having occurred on the same farm.

Each of the affidavits sets forth that Wertz cannot have an impartial and unprejudiced trial in Licking county because of the feeling against the Wertz family in this locality.

Should the motion be granted the case may be heard in any of the adjoining counties.

Our Boys and Girls

No one knows at what early stage a child receives its first impressions, but we would perhaps be surprised if we could see the effect produced on the baby mind by its environment, whether it be cheerful, playful and uplifting, or gloomy, depressing and nerve-racking. The home in which the little one enters into existence and its atmosphere are the first influences which are brought to bear on a young child and which are often of lasting effect. It behooves every mother to try to keep the atmosphere of the home as peaceful, as happy and cheerful as possible.

When a child grows older and begins to notice objects, even when very young, the picture in its home, and more especially those in the nursery where it spends most of its time, come in for a huge share of this silent influence.

As soon as the little one is old enough to understand anything he usually exhibits a fondness for stories. Even babies will sit spell-bound listening to the short tales suited to their comprehension.

The stories told should always be happy ones, especially at bedtime. They should set before the child pleasant mental pictures, and be calculated to instill into his mind an interest in and a love for dumb animals, and to foster his higher instincts, courage, unselfishness, gentleness, ambition. Stories form one of the most potent influences in the character of the growing child.

Since the condition of the teeth depends so largely upon the condition of the teeth, the rule of constant care should be rigidly enforced, and the time to begin this enforcement is when children are young, so that the habit will become instinctive.

Dentists tell us that it takes time to clean the teeth properly, that the vertical movement should be used instead of the usual horizontal one; that after the powder or paste application there should be a final brushing with clear water, so that every jot of foreign substance may be removed.

It is never too early to take children to the dentist for inspection and cleaning of teeth. Small boys sometimes get the idea the mother is "fussy" when she tries to persuade them to give attention to their teeth.

But when a dentist talks to them outlining the troubles that neglect can be avoided by using will cause, and giving good reasons for the necessity of constant care, the boy is impressed.

Another habit of the small boy is to use his teeth for a nut cracker, and to enter into competition to see whether he can crack the toughest nuts. Little girls bite off threads and tear bits of cloth, instead of using the scissors. They must be taught that the price of teeth which will last through their life is constant and respectful attention.

In teaching little girls to cook it is essential to make the work attractive and interesting to them, and to prevent discouragement from failure it is better to use the smallest quantity of materials. The cooking of a single chop or frying a few slices of bacon is much more apt to prove a triumphant success than a bigger undertaking.

The measurements are not hard to learn; the average little girl will soon grow quite adept at dividing the teaspoon lengthwise for a half spoonful, and making another dividing line at right angles, but a little nearer the handle than the dip, to allow for the tapering of the spoon.

The youthful cook will enjoy proving that three level teaspoonfuls make one level tablespoonful, and that the cups of milk just fill pint measure and four cupfuls a quart measure.

By gentle massage a very young baby's nose can be often vastly improved. Grasp the nose between the thumb and middle finger and gently massage it downward for a few moments twice daily.

William Twiggs, aged 47, prominent oil operator, died at his home in Zanesville at 7:20 o'clock, Wednesday evening after a two years' illness caused by cancer. His father, Russell H. Twiggs, aged 53, is critically ill at the home of his daughter, Mrs. G. F. Young, on Forest avenue.

CHARLES HATFIELD IS SELECTED FOR CAMPAIGN LEADER.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, Aug. 17.—While Governor Frank B. Willis and Myron T. Herrick, Republican senatorial nominee, discussed campaign plans for three hours today members of the new Republican state central committee postponed their meeting until the conference of the party leaders was ended.

Charles Hatfield of Bowling Green today was selected as chairman of the Republican state executive committee as the result of the conference.

It seemed probable that the final selection would be Peter W. Durr of Cincinnati, for chairman of the state central committee and Charles Hatfield of Bowling Green, for chairman of the executive committee. Henry Gall of Cleveland, is said to be favored for secretary of the executive committee.

W. L. Parmenter of Lima, it is intimated, is Governor Willis' choice for chairman of the central committee, but Durr has a large following among the delegates.

Milady's Boudoir

You have probably heard a great deal about massage as a method of reducing flesh. It is the rich woman's method and the lazy woman's method. To be successful however, it should be used in connection with more vigorous exercise and diet.

There are two simple massage movements that you can give yourself. Both are taken lying flat on the floor or in bed. If you have an obese abdomen make the muscles as tense as possible and then pressing upon them the palms of the hands, move the folds of fat backward and forward. The hands should be firm and should not be allowed to slip since if you move them about you move only the skin.

In this fashion the abdominal muscles nearest the surface are exercised and deposits of fat over them are diminished. The same result may be obtained by pounding alternately the tensed and relaxed abdomen with clenched fists. This exercise also tends to reduce the size of the hips. When you first take up these exercises do not perform them for more than five minutes, at one time.

The third exercise is the most difficult. Assume the normal standing position, then, without moving the feet, turn the upper part of the body as far as possible to the left, inhaling and raising your arms to a horizontal position as you do so. As you exhale bend the body over the left leg. This is a waist reducing movement, and at first should not be repeated more than five times left and right, respectively. By practice, however, you should be able to perform it thirty to fifty times in succession.

Learn to Save Yourself.
Women who remain in town the greater part of the summer often find themselves almost exhausted at the end of that time, particularly when they have all their own work to do.

She is in constant motion—sweeping, dusting, making beds, cooking, and far worse washing and ironing. Almost all of the housewife's tasks are heating in nature, and when the temperature is already high it is no wonder that at the close of the day she is practically exhausted.

Learn to save yourself as much as possible, housewives if you do not want to break down before the summer is over. There are many ways that you can save yourself. For example the greatest heat of the day is between noon and three o'clock. The coolest is between five and eight in the morning. Why not make out a schedule that will bring the heaviest work when it is cool and will leave the hottest hours for rest.

This will mean early rising, but you can make up for lost sleep in the middle of the day. If you arise at five and do your heavy sweeping, ironing, washing, etc., before breakfast, you will be able to rest at the hottest part of the day. After the breakfast dishes are done do your marketing, then on your return make up the beds and twelve o'clock should find you practically through for the day.

After lunch strip off, have a cold sponge or shower, and lie down until four. Then you can dress in fresh clothes, finish preparing your dinner and you will be already to greet your husband when he returns. If you will only save yourself in this way you will be rested and refreshed at night instead of exhausted.

Look Out for Sunburn.
Time was when it was considered fashionable to exert every effort to acquire a leathery coat of tan. This I am glad to note, is no longer the ambition of the summer girl. She desires to have a skin glowing with health, but she protects it from sunburn and applies lotions and creams to preserve its velvety softness and transparency.

The sunshade is an invaluable protection to a tender skin, and I advise you to carry one of green silk whenever you are exposed to the sun. Never go for a stroll after your swim without your parasol.

As an extra precaution, mask the face with cold cream and powder before braving the burning light. This is not as conspicuous as it sounds. Simply rub the face well with cold cream and remove all the superfluous grease with a soft towel. Then dust the face with a harmless face powder, allowing as you remain on the skin as you can without its being noticeable. Thus protected, the sunlight can do little harm to the skin.

When you go sailing or fishing wear a broadbrimmed hat to protect the face and neck from sunburn, for with the light reflected by the water it is next to impossible to keep from sunburning. In case your skin is burned, immediately apply this cream, whose healing qualities make it indispensable.

possible, housewives if you do not want to break down before the summer is over. There are many ways that you can save yourself. For example the greatest heat of the day is between noon and three o'clock. The coolest is between five and eight in the morning. Why not make out a schedule that will bring the heaviest work when it is cool and will leave the hottest hours for rest.

our organization, and seemingly, but very little has been accomplished. In fact, so little has been heard from your Board of Directors that some members were beginning to fear that we had already lost our enthusiasm and were wondering why we did not start something. One of the first resolutions passed by the Board was that it would be our policy to give the Press what had been done, instead of what we hoped to do, for what we were trying to accomplish.

One of the first matters claiming our attention was to secure permanent rooms or quarters. After considering several proposals, the rooms on the second floor in the Hunter-Baker building were decided to be the most desirable and were leased for one year, with the privilege of renewal, at a monthly rental of thirty-three dollars. This location is central, easy to access and has a pleasant, cheerful outlook. The main room is of ample size for all ordinary Committee or Bureau meetings, with a seating capacity of approximately one hundred. This, with the two well lighted offices in the rear, gives ample space for our requirements. The members are invited to make free use of these rooms at all times for committee use, or for any purpose that will promote the general welfare.

Our next step was to secure a Secretary or Manager, a proposition that looked easy at the outset, but one which proved extremely difficult. Our investigation convinced us that the high type man we really needed was not to be easily obtained, and finally we reached the conclusion that salary was the last thing to consider, for the best man available was necessary if we were to meet our problems and successfully solve them.

Many applicants sought this position, and they were all successful men of high reputation, marked ability and well recommended by those who were most competent to judge. We selected from the number those who appeared to best fit our requirements, and invited them to visit Newark to look over the situation. Among these were men from Boston, St. Louis, Chicago, Columbia, S. C., Grand Forks, N. D., Clearfield, Pa., and Marshalltown, Ia. Each of these applicants spent one or two days in our city, making a study of our possibilities and our requirements, and then made a report to your Board of Directors, giving a summary of their findings and submitted their proposition. In a few instances, we were told that the situation was too difficult and the applicant admitted not being the type of man necessary to bring about the proper results. We exhausted our list of applicants without being able to find a Secretary who measured up to our requirements, and were somewhat disheartened at the result.

Our interviews with these gentlemen, all of whom were experts in their line, was not without its value in an educational way to your Board of Directors.

We sought advice from the National Chamber of Commerce, and were told that Newark, owing to its size and location, must have a manager of the standard of commercial bodies in Columbus, Cincinnati, Youngstown, Pittsburgh, or any of our near competitors. If we were to make a marked success.

This further investigation brought us in touch with a type of men who are doing the real constructive work in community building and who are the acknowledged leaders in their profession. We wanted a manager of this type, one who had made good, one who was not an experiment.

We found such a man, but also found that we were then confronted with the problem of how to induce him to leave a city of 100,000 and come to one of 30,000. We are able to say that we found the solution for this problem also.

Contact with these men has given your Board of Directors a new vision and an entirely different viewpoint of what we most need and how best to secure it. I believe that many of you subscribed your money and elected us as your directors largely with the hope that we would "grab" a few factories from somewhere and plant them in Newark, regardless of whether they would live or thrive here, or whether they would be a benefit or a detriment—the main idea seems to be "get the factory."

We are most anxious to find the right way to further our industrial growth, and believe the foundation of the business strength of our city rests upon its industries and that the weekly payroll is its commercial life blood. We want to increase that payroll and will diligently seek the proper means for so doing, but I do not believe that "to get factories" is now the main idea of this Board. I am rather of the opinion that they believe our first real need is an investigation that will enable us to discover ourselves, information that will enable us to analyze the unfavorable as well as the favorable conditions; information that will enable us to do real, lasting, constructive work.

The lack of accurate knowledge concerning our civic and industrial conditions is most appalling, and should be corrected without further delay. How many of you know how many manufacturing concerns we have in Newark, or the products made, or the percentage of home consumption of their products; the source and extent of raw material; character and E. T. U. value of coal from nearest field; the freight rate; comparison and cost of electric power with other cities; what cities for factory purposes are owned or under option by your Chamber of Commerce; the acreage or value of annual production; investment capital; labor conditions; scale; number of home owners; number of skilled mechanics; housing conditions; tax rate?

Have we kept pace with other cities? If not, why? Why have our industries failed or been unprofitable? What products can profitably be manufactured here? Why?

These are only a few of the questions that factories posing a question want to know along industrial lines, and even more along civic lines. I cannot answer them. Can you?

Would it not be the part of wisdom to start an industrial and civic survey, that we may discover ourselves, correct our faults, and then pass the information out to those who are seeking locations? I think so, and recommend that the necessary steps be taken to carefully and accurately obtain this information.

It struck us as remarkable that among all the experts applying for this position, not one recommended a bonus to induce factories to locate here. The opinion seems to be that the right kind of a factory is looking for the right kind of a town, and that it is up to us to make the conditions right and the factory will gladly come to us.

The Industrial Bureau has already been asked for more than a quarter of a million dollars, but not as yet having the right conditions nor this amount of money at their disposal, the factories are as yet unsecured.

One of the pledges made in the membership campaign was that your Board of Directors would employ "an able, trained and experienced Secretary." We have kept that promise, but have changed his name to that of Manager.

On July 31st, a contract was entered into by which Mr. George H. Mosser of Altoona, Pa., becomes the Manager of the Newark Chamber of Commerce for two years, beginning August 15th.

We have also employed Mr. J. V. Haas as an assistant. Mr. Haas will, under the supervision of the Manager, have charge of the Mercantile Bureau, which, in our opinion, can be made self supporting.

We are incorporated under the laws of Ohio and are now ready to begin active work under competent and expert leadership, instead of haphazard, purposeless, wasted efforts.

As a further precaution against error, we have taken a membership in the National Chamber of Commerce, which now has a membership of more than 700 commercial organizations representing every State in the Union. The Service Bureau of the National Chamber collects all available material of interest to the Chamber of Commerce, and will send a digest of this material on inquiry, thereby enabling us to avoid the pitfalls of others or armed with the best and most successful experience of others, we can plan and proceed more intelligently.

To succeed, we must have your co-operation by giving a part of the best that is in you for the common good. If we are to find ourselves in the greater possibilities for community promotion, realize our hopes, or reach our ideal, we must establish more cordial relations one with the other. We must eradicate indifference, envy, jealousy and selfishness. We must get together, plan together and work together.

At the conclusion Mr. Beggs called upon the chairman of the various bureaus for a report of the work accomplished by their departments since the organization was effected last April.

Secretary John S. Fleck reported on the minutes of the meetings held by the Chamber and just what had been done by the officers. The report was accepted and the Secretary applauded for his work.

An interesting and enthusiastic report on the Mercantile Bureau was submitted by Chairman George Hermann. The chairman told of what his committee had been doing since last April and from the report it was very evident this body of men have been actively engaged.

Mr. Hermann's report was as follows: "The Mercantile Bureau of the Newark Chamber of Commerce absorbed The Newark Merchants' Association June 1, 1916, and is now performing the work formerly done by the association."

At that time on the recommendation of a committee appointed by the Newark Chamber of Commerce, they purchased the furniture and fixtures of The Merchants' Association for $150, same is now in use at our new quarters.

"This bureau is proud to state that it lost but four members of the Merchants' Association for the Newark Chamber of Commerce, out of a membership of 121."

"The object of this bureau is to foster trade and commerce for our country, to protect its members from unjust and unlawful exaction, to reform abuses of trade, to give its members correct and reliable information as to the standing of purchasers and other matters, to form an enlarged and friendly intercourse between the merchants."

"The records of this bureau show, how and where it has saved the merchants $480 since June in wasteful advertising, beside checking numerous trade abuses."

"This bureau maintains a rating system of the credit standard of over 16,000 citizens of Newark and the county are on file and which is saving the merchants hundreds of dollars each month."

"Last week this bureau demonstrated what co-operation can do for a community, when it had at least 25,000 people attending the Farmers and Merchants Picnic."

"It is truly a pleasure to be associated with a lot of men that have the real co-operative spirit, that when work is assigned to them, they go to it with the very best of the very finish, and gentlemen, that kind of team work will always bring home the bacon."

"The Farmers and Merchants Picnic is doing for the country and city just what it was intended to do, bringing the people of the rural district in closer touch with one another and with the city people, so they will meet and assist each other in solving the problems that confront them, all the time pulling together for the best of the best country, in the best state in the Union."

"Gentlemen, by helping one another, all pulling together at all times, we are bound to cement ties of friendship that will bring splendid results in various ways."

"This Farmers and Merchants Picnic was of course no expense to the Chamber of Commerce, as the picnic committee has a separate fund which grew a little this year, after donating $300 to The Graceland Association to help take care of their coming convention and for cancelling their proposed excursion to Cedar Point, by which act we believe we kept $5,000 from leaving Newark, never to return."

"This bureau believes it should not encourage such excursions, but should encourage picnics at our historic Fair Grounds (Mound Builders Park) and last but not least, encourage and boost Buckeye Lake, now one of the most beautiful and attractive summer resorts to be found and which is one of Newark's greatest assets."

"Now, gentlemen, that all of us are about to put our shoulders to the big wheel, let every bureau, every member of this Chamber of Commerce get that real co-operative spirit and if we do, there will be but one road open for all of us, and that road is success, which means, a bigger and better Newark in which to live and do business."

Owing to the illness of Ralph Wych, chairman of the Industrial committee, E. M. Baugher was called upon to read the report of this committee. Mr. Baugher reported that several new industries had been sought by the committee and that two were possibilities. This report also showed that the Industrial committee has been working over time in an effort to secure new industries for Newark. Two of these concerns Mr. Baugher said, "stand alone in the country." He said a bonus was not needed to bring these industries to Newark but it all depended upon special conditions of the town.

Treasurer Joseph N. Pugh, next was called upon to make a report. He reported dues to the amount of $9,754.35; miscellaneous, $31.22; total disbursements, $4,507.74; balance on hand August 16, $5,277.73. Total $9,785.47.

Chairman H. F. Darrow, of the Publicity and Convention bureau reported on the U. C. T. Convention for 1917, handling the past convention of the Eagles, the Zanesville Auto trip, entertaining the members of the Baltimore and Ohio Safety First train, securing the Adventist's convention, which now is in session here, in the face of great opposition, the Farmers and Merchants picnic and the coming next year to this city of the Odd Fellow's encampment. The latter, Mr. Darrow reported, would bring between three and four thousand people to Newark. He said his bureau contained some wide awake and energetic men, who would be glad to keep up with the rapid pace already set by Manager Mosser.

Joseph Pugh, chairman of the Civic bureau had several bright features in his report relative to improving the city. He said his committee had taken up the taxation question and the improvement of the city next year with the taxation expenditure. This committee, according to the chairman will report next week on their investigation to the budget committee.

He said the committee had assisted in the recent Y. M. C. A. campaign for funds, raising $2,500 on the last day of the campaign. That it had also established the municipal bathing beach and had solicited $300 to be used in putting the beach in condition for bathers. Also the bathing beach promises to develop into a big proposition next year and predicted a marked improvement in Newark as well as in the county during the next year.

Prof. Homer Price, chairman of the Agricultural bureau, reported several important lines of activity which have been entered into by his committee for "things hoped for and things realized." He said his bureau had met with the Agricultural Fair Board and had arranged to place exhibits of the public schools at the next fair meeting in the fall at which time over $200 would be given away in cash prizes. The report stated the public would be interested to know what the children were doing in the schools and would appreciate the arrangement to place the exhibits.

He said a recent meeting in a school house north of the city The Cherry Valley and Welsh Hills improvement company had been organized and would look after the improvement of the Cherry Valley, the Welsh Hills and the Mt. Vernon roads. Also that several conferences with county and local Granges were favorable for the establishing of a Farm Bureau, the appointment of an agricultural agent and an expert in station in Licking county. Federal Government, he said, had made appropriation for the appointment of the agent and he would likely be put on the job this fall.

Clarence Helsey, chairman of the Membership bureau, reported that his committee has been marking time while awaiting the guidance of competent leadership.

Mr. Mosser, later in the evening in commenting upon the reports of the various bureaus, said they had accomplished in four months what he considered a year's work. He had taken over in other cities six months to put over. He said the various bureaus a high tribute for the work already done with "I see I will have to hurry every minute to keep up with the pace they are setting."

President Beggs in introducing Manager Mosser said he was about to expose the big card of the evening.

"We have investigated Mr. Mosser's past to the extent of seeing him in the past to Altona to ascertain just what sort of a man he was at home," he said. "We employed the manner of sleuths in our investigation and I believe that after you have heard Mr. Mosser you will agree that the chamber has made no mistake in its selection."

"Fellow men of Newark and members of the Chamber of Commerce: It's pretty tough to live up to some of the press notices I have received, Mr. Mosser said, as he arose for the closing introduction. Then he lunged forth into a story which instantly commanded the attention of his audience.

"I only want to come to you as a plain ordinary businessman, who has been selected by your board and yourselves to look after the interests of your chamber," he said.

He said that before the Chamber of Commerce started things it's members should realize that Newark
